Children in Foster Care
as of June 30 of each year

The number of children in foster care has remained steady in recent years, although children are entering and leaving care every day. Virginia has a low rate of children in foster care when compared with other states. Four out of 1,000 children in Virginia are in foster care.